MOROCCAN SITUATION

Whole Country May Soon Be Ablaze With Fanaticism.

NEW MOORISH ARMY RISES

General Drude Has Asked for Reinforcements, Stating that His Men Are Worn Out from Being Constantly Under Arms.

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Moroccan situation is regarded here as having assumed a distinctly more serious aspect. The ferment in the interior of Morocco, the proclamation of the Sultan's brother as sultan by a section of the rebels and the appearance of a new Moorish army before Casa Blanca have created the fear that the whole country will soon be ablaze with fanaticism.

General Drude, commander of the French forces at Casa Blanca, has now practically asked for reinforcements.

Pointing out that his men are worn out with being constantly under arms, but especially insisting that he is losing the advantage gained by his successes because the small force at his disposal prevents him from following up his victory.

More than one thousand colonial cavalry and troops of other arms have been mobilized ready to embark on transports and warships are in readiness at Mediterranean ports.

Public sentiment in France is becoming stronger against the present half-handed measures which it is feared will only lead to disaster. The papers insist that the world must support France if it is decided to send a military expedition to Fez, for in no other way, the newspapers claim, can the existing state of anarchy in Morocco be ended.

Special dispatches received from Tangier say that Muial Hafig, the brother of the sultan of Morocco, who recently was proclaimed sultan, is marching on Casa Blanca with Moorish reinforcements to the number of 35,000 men, recruited from the most fierce and fanatical tribesmen of the south of Morocco.

Paris, Aug. 23.—An official note was issued Thursday announcing that General Drude, commander of the French expeditionary force in Morocco, will, when the reinforcements, now on their way to Casa Blanca, reach him, have at his disposal 5,000 men, which number is considered to be sufficient to insure protection of the town, unless the unexpected happens, for which emergency further reinforcements are ready to embark for Morocco.

It is stated that as a result of the cabinet conferences and exchanges of views with Premier Clemenceau who is at Marienbad, where he met King Edward, the government remains firm in carrying out its program which it reiterated is not one of conquest.

Ex-MAYOR SUICIDES.

Former Louisville Official Tires of Life.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 23.—Hon. Paul C. Barth, for a year and half mayor of Louisville, and ousted recently by the decision of the court of appeals, shot and killed himself.

Mr. Barth ended his life in his private office at the headquarters of the Union Lumber company, of which he was general manager. The shot was heard by his business associates, who rushed into the room to find Mr. Barth unconscious and died about 1 o'clock.

Mr. Barth was a man of means. He was president of the board of aldermen for several years. It was Mr. Barth who welcomed President Roosevelt when he made his southwestern tour two years ago. The cause of the suicide is unknown.

Kermit Roosevelt Joins Regiment.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Otumwa, Iowa, states that Kermit Roosevelt has joined the Thirteenth United States cavalry at Fairfield for a march overland to Fort Riley, Kans.

PLACED BABE ON HOT STOVE.

Alleged Brutal Murder Is Reported From Kentucky.

Augusta, Ky., Aug. 23.—Mrs. Robert Reed, aged 33 years, was placed in jail at Brooksville on the charge that she had murdered Leola Mains, aged 3 years old, her niece.

The alleged murder, according to Coroner George B. Kinny, is the worst in the history of this part of the state.

The child was the daughter of John Mains, a brother of Mrs. Reed. Some months ago he obtained a divorce and the custody of the child. He placed her in the care of his sister, Mrs. Reed, of Neave, Bracken county. It is charged by the authorities that Mrs. Reed took a great dislike to the child from the first.

It was learned by Coroner Kinney and Justice W. J. Petticord that a child had died at the Reed home. He and his jury investigated and found. It is declared by both, that the Mains child had died of injuries inflicted by some person other than herself. The child's body bore 46 separated bruises. Coroner Kinney asserts. He impaneled a jury and the verdict was:

"Leola Mains came to her death as the result of injuries willfully inflicted by her aunt, Mrs. Robert Reed."

"The condition of the child's body proved conclusively," said Coroner Kinney, "that she had been placed on a hot stove before death. There were burns as big as a man's hand on her body, to say nothing of a score or more of evidences of pounding. It is the most brutal case I ever heard of."

ADVERTISES FOR SON.

Mother Fears Heir to Fortune Has Met with Foul Play.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 23.—Using the newspapers as a means of locating him, Mrs. Mary Matthews, of this city, is searching the United States for her son, Carrol T. Matthews, who has been missing from his home since May 22 last.

Although poor when he left home and forced to earn his own living, Matthews is now heir to an estate of $30,000 and a farm, on which is located one of the richest coal veins in Spencer county.

Young Matthews had just passed his seventeenth birthday when the call of the west came to him with such force that he could not resist it, and he disappeared. In her efforts to locate him Mrs. Matthews has inserted notices in many newspapers throughout the country, giving a description of the youth.

Since he disappeared Mrs. Matthews has received but one letter from her son, and that was written at Hutchinson, Kans., and in it he said that he would go from there to Denver. Mrs. Matthews fears that her son has met with foul play.

Robbed by Three Highwaymen.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23—William H. Hicks, paymaster for Schaum & Uhlinger, a textile machine manufacturing company, was held up by three highwaymen in the northeastern part of the city and robbed of a satchel containing $6,000. The men were pursued, and one of them was captured after several shots had been fired at him. The other two escaped, with the satchel. Paymaster Hicks is in a hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the arm, received in the scuffle with the highwaymen.

Police Probing Mystery.

New York, Aug. 23—The Brooklyn police have arrested three men as witnesses in an effort to find the murderer of Mrs. Lena Schen, a young widow, whose body was found in her apartments in Flushing avenue, Brooklyn. She was last seen alive by occupants of the building Sunday evening when she returned from a picnic and was escorted to the door by three women.

Fires Raging in Adirondacks.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Unless rain descends upon the Adirondacks to check the spread of forest fires, enormous damage will be done in the next few days. Many acres of valuable timber land have already been burned over and the flies threaten the destruction of extensive private estates

CLASH IN ALABAMA

Federal Judge Jones Cracks His Whip Over State.

GOVERNOR RESENTS SAME

Judge Jones Charges the Federal Grand Jury to Indict State Officials Who Interfere in Any Way With His Court.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 23.—In his charge to a United States grand jury Wednesday afternoon Judge Thomas G. Jones made it plain that he expected them to indict any state or county officer who interferes in any way with the orders of his court with regard to the state railroad laws which he suspended and restrained.

The incident grows out of the threat on the part of state solicitors and sheriffs to make arrests for violations of the state laws that have been held up by order of the United States court, and indicates that the judge is ready for any sort of fight the state may see fit to put up on his court.

The judge tells the jury that they are likely to be held in session until there is a settlement of the cases, or such a let-up in the proceedings that they can be safely let go without fear of discredit to the court.

He says all the power of the flag and the nation is behind them to enforce the orders of the court, and that officers of the state will not be allowed in any sense to defy the tribunal.

In a statement given to the public Wednesday Governor B. B. Comer announced that if the railroads of the state are not obeying the laws of the state by October 1st, as is the case with several lines, he will call an extra session of the legislature to enact such laws as are necessary to give the state power to enforce its statutes.

The governor declares:

"If the statutes upon the subject of freight and passenger charges on interstate or democratic business are not being observed by October 1st by all the railroads, and if it shall appear that under existing laws the state in its just effort to regulate rates is threatened by any superior power, I will at that time call th elegislature will at that time call the legislature subject and for the purpose of passing such laws as may secure the full regulation by the state of its public service corporations."

POTATOES MAY SAVE HER.

Critical Period Passed by Woman who Swallowed Hat Pin.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The critcal period in the condition of Mrs. C. G. Ferris, of Detroit, Mich., who swallowed a small hat pin at the Auditorium Annex hotel Sunday night while dressing for an automobile ride, has been passed, according to Dr. Alex Hugh Ferguson, the attending physician, and her general condition was pronounced good Wednesday.

"We have located the pin," said the doctor, "and think an operation will not be necessary. The pin is near the appendix, and if it passes that point safely, the patient will soon recover, otherwise an operation will be necessary. Mrs. Ferris is swallowing no liquid whatever, and is sustained by potatoes alone, and in any form. The potato forms a mass around the pin and is carrying it from her body.

"We have watched, with the aid of the X-ray, the potato food as it passes through the various organs, tracing its progress inch by inch. It was the only food to be partaken of to save her life."

Taft and Garfield Confer.

Lexington, Ky. Aug. 23.—Secretary of the Interior, James R. Garfield, who was telegraphed by Secretary of War Taft to come from St. Louis to meet him here, arrived late Wednesday night, and went at once to Elmendorf Stock farm where Secretary Taft is a guest. The two secretaries were in conference some time, but no statement was obtainable as to the matters discussed.

BIBLES BARRED TO INSANE.

Startling Testimony Given Before Investigating Committee.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 23.—Before the insane hospital investigation today, Mrs. M. F. Crenshaw, of Montgomery, a former inmate, swore that patients were not allowed to have their Bibles at the hospital; that she was locked up for six weeks in a lodge on the lawn for going to see a preacher; that her clothing was taken away, and she was left for days with inadequate food. She saw eight nurses jump on one patient and while thus held down a fifth nurse with a slipper because she insisted upon lying in bed.

The same witness said she was beaten because she wrote a letter to the superintendent, also for speaking to a crowd of visitors who came to see the grounds. She was beaten for trying to speak to one of the trustees and knew another woman punished for the same thing; also that she had been asked by Superintendent Searcy not to tell what she knew if she was ever called upon to testify.

She said that one old woman only of the whole lot of patients was allowed to have a Bible, and she because she was so very old.

Senator Merritt has been appointed to the commission in place of Senator Spragins, who has resigned.

A TURN OF FATE.

Fatal Auto Wreck Makes Young Girl an Heiress.

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 23.—The automobile tragedy near Ashley Falls, in which Charles J. Root, the Bristol millionaire, his mother and aunt were instantly killed, and his sister fatally hurt, has made an heiress of Miss Katherine Root, the millionaire's 14 year old niece. Mr. Root was greatly attached to his niece. His wife died years ago and the niece lived with her uncle.

A few days before the accident Root made his will, giving all but $20,000 of the estate to Miss Katherine. It is estimated that her share will be considerably more than $1,000,000. It is a singular fact that the young girl who thus comes into this large inheritance is the only one of the automobile party who will survive. The accident wipes out the entire family, with the exception of the niece.

ONE-MINUTE MARRIAGE.

Then Couple Raced for Their Train in an Automobile.

Lexington, Aug. 23.—Owing to the interruption to the telegraph service Judge Abner Oldham, of this city, learned the first news of the marriage of his daughter, Marie G. Oldham, to Walter Fitzpatrick, an attorney of Philadelphia. They were married at Los Angeles, Cal., and the news that came to Judge Oldham was in a southern paper which he received.

Miss Oldham was supposed to be at Prescott, Ariz., for her health. The couple were in Los Angeles less than one minute and were married at the depot where a minister, notified in advance, met them and tied the knot. The train was late and could not wait, so the couple, after the hasty ceremony, took a swift automobile and after a wild dash caught the train at Gorvan, Cal., and proceeded to Prescott.

Miss Oldham is a noted Kentucky beauty.

Baby Caressed Mother's Corpse.

Washington Courthouse, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Clarence Haines shot and killed his wife and then turning the weapon on himself inflicted a mortal wound. When the horror-stricken parents of the woman rushed into the room they found both bodies upon the floor, while the 3 year old baby of the couple was caressing the body of the mother and crying as though its heart would break.

His Backbone Snapped.

Ashland, Ky., Aug. 23.—While Carl Jackson, aged 19, was helping his father jack up a barn, the jack slipped, letting the structure drop back and catching him in such a manner that his backbone was snapped just below the shoulder blades. He has been placed in a plaster cast and the attending physician says there is good chances for his recovery.

CLIMAX TO LAW SUIT

Sepulcher of Millionaire Baker Was Opened.

PECULIAR BATTLE NOW ENDS

Grave of Man Opened to Ascertain If He Had Really Died or If the Grave Contained a Wax Figure Buried in Place of Body.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—James Donovan, an attorney of Chicago, who for several years has waged a peculiar battle against Senator Thomas C. Platt, succeeded in having the grave of LaFora S. Baker, in Big Rapids, Mich., opened in order to support his contention that the former Michigan lumberman had not died, but had fled to Europe to avoid responsibility in several financial failures.

The exhumation proved to the satisfaction of Big Rapids city officials and of Harry H. Wykom, the husband of Baker's only daughter, that the skeleton remains are those of the man whose name appeared on the gravestone; but Attorney Donovan continued his assertions that a wax image had been buried in the grave. He declared that the grave, many years ago, had been opened recently and a skeleton substituted for a wax bust of Baker.

City Attorney Barton, of Big Rapids, and other witnesses said the condition of the ground, the state of the skeleton, and even the remnants of clothing proved that the grave had not been opened since it was filled.

This stage of Donovan's [illegible] over the Baker estate—said to be [illegible] by relatives, [illegible]—was the climax of one of the most remarkable series of acts ever recorded to the credit of a reputable business man. He and Baker had been partners in the lumber business at Big Rapids several years before the latter's death. Shortly before that occurrence several [illegible] in which Senator Platt's name figured had gone to the wall.

Donovan contended that Baker's opponents had induced him to leave England under an assumed name, while they forwarded to his home a false corpse. The injury done to him, he claimed, came from the entanglement of his affairs with those of the dead man, which never were straightened out. One feature was the ownership of 23,000 acres of Wisconsin timber land from which Donovan asserted $3,000,000 worth of timber had been cut without accounting to him.

Among many suits he began in Chicago courts was one demanding that amount from Senator Platt. He posted attempts to have this made a question, but almost without exception the courts rejected the [illegible].

Another effort made by Donovan was to get Baker's divorced wife and his only child, Mrs. H. H. Wykom, of Grand Rapids, to co-operate with him in the struggle for the estate. For a time both assisted him, but later Mrs. Wykom refused to further promise his labors, and it was charged later a great hue and cry had been raised by Donovan that [illegible] ed, for the purpose of [illegible] to the exhumation of her father's remains.

Fined $100 for a Single Kiss.

Chicago, Aug. 23—Municipal Judge Sadler has set a new price on a kiss, imposing a $100 fine on John McLaughlin, 24 years old, for imprinting one osculatory salute on the pink cheek of Nellie Perkins, 18 years of age, a salesgirl employed in a downtown department store. Miss Perkins testified that McLaughlin approached her while she was walking through Vernon park on her way home from work and kissed her before she could prevent him, and the defendant embraced her. She called a policeman and caused his arrest.

Marienbad, Aug. 23.—M. Clemenceau, the French premier, who is taking the cure at Karlsbad, lunched with King Edward here. The results of the recent royal meetings at Cowes and Homburg were discussed with apparent satisfaction.

CITIZENS COMPLAIN OF POOR SERVICE

Sanitary Drivers Have Not Visited Them for Many Weeks.

CUT THE SIDE STREETS OUT

Do Not Pretend Any More to Take Up Trash and Refuse from Side Streets, Notwithstanding that Council Has Passed a Stringent Ordinance.

Notwithstanding that the City Council, at its meeting a few weeks ago, brought up the question of citizens keeping their premises clean, etc., this same Council will not require the driver of the scavenger or trash wagon to make visits at regular intervals to some sections of the city.

At least, because of the fact that this sanitary, or trash wagon man, does not come, it is to be assumed that he is not compelled to do so, and that he only makes a certain round during the day, leaving the rest of the people to take care of themselves.

If the Council is wise, and has the employment of the city scavenger, and the direction of his duties in their hands, why is it that they permit this scavenger man to clean up certain streets every day, and permit others to go for five to eight weeks with refuse, etc., laying in front of the premises with the expectation that the scavenger man will be there every day, and then endeavor to pass an ordinance requiring people to "keep clean?" There's something rotten—and it is not with the poor fellow who has been putting his little pile of rubbish in the box in front of his home, and which is permitted to remain there until it is likely to breed germs, but it is the fault of the people who have been elected in the confidence of the people to serve us.

There is going to be something said if these side streets are not cleaned up soon of the rubbish that has been collected by the owners but refused by the sanitary, or trash, wagons because they did not have "time to pick it up," and the names of those responsible will be published in The Sun. There are many complaints.

ARTHUR DOYLE'S MARRIAGE.

Interesting Account of the Function From Georgia Paper.

The Perry (Ga.) Journal, of the 22d inst., has the following to say regarding the marriage of Arthur J. Doyle, one of Florida's popular young men, and Miss Mary Norwood, a popular young lady of Perry, which will be of interest to Mr. Doyle's friends in this section:

"A marriage of much interest was that of Miss Mary Norwood, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norwood, to Mr. Arthur J. Doyle of Jacksonville, Fla., which occurred August 15, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. J. W. Arnold officiating.

"Miss Annie Woodward of Perry, Mr. Fred Doyle of Jacksonville, Fla., Miss Elizabeth Riley of Perry, and Mr. W. D. Sapp of Jacksonville, Fla., were the attendants, with little Misses Aurelia Cooper and Martha Riley, both of Perry, as flower girls.

"Miss Louise Riley sang 'I'd Live or I Would Die for You.' Miss Bessie Houser played the wedding march, and during the ceremony she played soft strains of music.

"The attendants entered from the rear of the reception hall, followed by the flower girls, scattering pink and white rose petals, preceding the bride and groom, and forming a semi-circle before a bank of palms and roses which, together with happy faces, made a picture long to be remembered.

"The bride was becomingly gowned in a stylish traveling suit of tan, and under a jaunty coat she wore a cluny lace waist of same shade. Carrying a shower boquet of white asters and ferns, and being of a brunette type, she was never more handsome than on this occasion.

"The bridesmaids wore white lingerie gowns elaborately trimmed in lace, and carried boquets of pink asters. The flower girls were fairy-like in fluffy, white lace-trimmed frocks.

"After congratulations and adieus, they left for Daytona Beach, Fla., and other places of interest."

FATHER'S SEARCH FOR SON.

Was at Last Found In Naval Home Hospital, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 23.—After a long search through all the police stations of the city, W. A. Wright, a young artist of Dallas, Tex., who has been missing for several weeks, was found in the hospital at the naval home Wednesday night.

Wright came to Philadelphia to look for work. He is 23 years of age and when he left his home in Texas a few months ago he was full of enthusiasm over the future that awaited him here where he hoped to obtain employment as illustrator on a magazine.

Suddenly Wright's letters to his home ceased to arrive, his father became worried, asked the police here to seek his son, and failing to find him came to this city himself. He visited every public hospital in the city showing a picture of his boy; finally, as a last hope, he appealed to the newspapers. The story was printed and the result was the identification of Wright in the Naval hospital.

The boy told his father how it all happened. He had tried in vain to obtain work and at last, driven desperate by hunger, enlisted in the marine corps.

JUDSON JOTTINGS.

Judson, August 23.—Lightning hit the dwelling house of F. S. Sanchez near Trenton, Monday, setting a bed on fire and killing a dog. It stunned a negro woman, but none of Mr. Sanchez's family was hurt.

Rev. J. W. Martin has been conducting a protracted meeting here this week, assisted by Rev. J. K. Sheffield. They baptised ten this morning in Jordan's Banks, near here, five ladies and five men. Four have been received by letter, making fourteen in all to date, and more are expected to join before the meeting closes.

The farmers are getting very busy now picking cotton and gathering corn. Some of them report that their cotton fields are getting white. They are all hoping to get a good price for it this year.

RECEIVERS' INVESTIGATE.

Will Try to Trace Missing Funds of Macon Exchange Bank.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 23—Plans have already been well laid by Permanent Receivers R. J. Taylor, B. R. O'Neal and Campbell T. King for a thorough investigation of the accounts of the exchange Bank since 1890.

Their effort will be to fix the responsibility upon the proper persons for the disposition of all the capital stock and the surplus of the institution. They will also make efforts to trace the funds where they find that money was missing. Expert accountants are already in conference with the receivers, and their plans will be well laid when the work is taken up.

Numbers of the larger stockholders have expressed much bitterness against the official, whoever he may be, who was responsible for the misdirection of the amounts. The accountants in their reports touching the books of the bank, have stated that they would locate the errors and the person committing them with a brief investigation, and the stockholders and directors have felt it their duty to do so whether they recover any funds or not.

For the first hour after the strike the ferryboats from the Manhattan side of the East River to its terminal in Long Island City, was almost entirely suspended, but the officials of the company declared that they would have boats running in time for the evening rush.

Have Clew to Mail Robbery.

Chicago, Aug 23.—The police are working on a clew in connection with the $250,000 mail robbery on Sunday night on the Burlington road. A bulky package, it is known, was mailed to Chicago from a point near Denver, Colo., shortly after the robbery. The police have the name of the man to whom it was addressed and claim that he is such a person as would be chosen as an intermediary for thieves. There is nothing definite as yet in the story.

Increase Rate of Interest.

New York, Aug. 23.—The failure of the city of New York to dispose of its bonds, even at private sale, will, it is declared, result in an increase in the rate of interest. A special meeting of the sinking fund commission will be held and the rate on the bonds probably will be raised from four to four and a half per cent.

Killed Bride and Self.

New York, Aug. 23.—Insanely jealous of his attractive bride of two months, Julius Teich, a silk weaver, shot her through the head and then sent a bullet into his own brain. Both died a few minutes later. Neighbors say the couple had been quarreling violently for several days.

Auto Trip Interrupted.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—The automobile trip across Africa by the German army Lieutenant Graetz has been temporarily halted by a broken cylinder. A new cylinder has been sent for and when it is installed the trip will proceed.

Tornado Kills Four.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 23.—A special from Leon, Iowa, says four persons—a woman and three children—were killed in the storm which passed over that section of the state Sunday night. Their names are not given.

Violinist Reported Safe.

New York, Aug. 23.—A dispatch from Berne states that Francis McMillen, the American violinist, who was reported lost on Mont Blanc, is safe and no accident occurred.

Two Tall Ones.

"Eagles and hyenas, if they are starving, will eat themselves," said a nature faker.

"Oh, of course."

"It's the truth. Pliny mentions it in his natural history, and I have proved it by experiment. I starved an eagle three days, and he began to tear chunks out of his thigh and eat them. The thing was so sickening to me that I only permitted it to go on a day. I got two good photographs of it for my last book, then I restored the eagle's rations again. The poor fellow had made a hole in his thigh as big as your fist, and to this day he walks lame.

"And the hyena? The hyena was worse still. At first he was obstinate and refused to touch himself; but one night I heard angry growls from his cage and, going down with a lantern, I found him eating his hind leg. He had made great progress. He had got away with about three pounds. I believe if I hadn't come down in time he'd have devoured himself completely."—Exchange.

Strained the Jar.

A little old woman with a sharp nose and sharper tongue was in the country grocery store buying supplies. Among other things she brought in from her cart was a battle scarred jug, which she ordered to be filled with treacle.

At last, when her purchases were completed, she began looking over the account, item by item, before paying.

"What's this?" she exclaimed. "You have charged me for two gallons and a half of treacle."

"Yes, ma'am."

"But that jug holds only two gallons."

"You must be mistaken. I measured the treacle carefully, and it took two gallons and a half to fill it."

"Well," said the old woman with a sigh, "I don't so much mind having to pay for the treacle, but I do object to having the old jug strained by your putting in half a gallon more than it will hold."—Strand Magazine.

IS IT NOTHING BUT POLITICS

When anybody from Washington has in mind any proposal with an investigation of the affairs of the Union as a chief feature, suspicion is the investigation of the Government and prejudice the case unfavorably. [illegible] prosecution of the Standard Oil [illegible] Government with one hand. [illegible] if not an indictment that the Government knows a fact to be proved as well as to the criminality and it ought to be well to add that the Government [illegible] know some facts to the contrary.

[illegible] the Government knew some facts to the people which [illegible] the prosecution of Paul Morton would [illegible] the President though a subordinate [illegible] guilt and sought to justify by [illegible] that no statement could be made [illegible] the railroad officers refused to give [illegible] news and urge to the contrary which refused to take them. I doubt not [illegible] to imagine that Paul Morton, [illegible] president of a road given rebates [illegible] Paul Morton, vice president [illegible] and was known to understand [illegible] all the complaints in the great [illegible] of the stockholders of the road.

[illegible] the Government acted in good faith to the people when the Republican National Committee failed to return illegal subscriptions to the insurance associations after George Perkins [illegible] secure the same under threat of [illegible] exposure.

Is the Government acting in good faith when it makes restitution to China, but does not return to the people of the South the proceeds of a tax declared unconstitutional by the supreme court?

If the court decides that criminals should not have cause to attack the good faith of the Government, why not ask that it keep faith with the people?—Times-Union.

THINKS WELL OF BROWNE

State papers are of opinion that Senator J. E. Browne, of Quincy, will be a candidate for Governor next year, says The Leland News and some suppose that he will make the race on the strength gained in the last Legislature by the famous gerrymander. Senator Browne has many good qualities besides those shown in the Senate gerrymander bill and if he enters the field will make things interesting for the other candidates. Mr. Browne of Pensacola has dropped out of the race, but Mr. Gardner of Lafayette promises to attend later and [illegible] our own section. Gardner is heartily supported by all the home papers.

A bill introduced in the Kansas legislature gives all users of a highway the right-of-way as against an automobile. This is on the principle observed on the water that the duty must avoid vessel shall clear the craft. The rule of the road shall be observed, but the responsibility for all collisions shall be on the automobile. Why not adopt the rule in this country and so put an end at one fell blow to the devils of every stable that now own our roads and streets? When the bicycle the rider was in danger—with the automobile it is the other fellow. Let the strong hand of the law guard the highway.—Times-Union.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

Be a smile specialist.

Carlyle's definition of a king is "the man who can."

Every task is viewed through the eyes of your inclination.

The impossible becomes possible when a resistless will deals with it.

"The willingness to pronounce a thing impossible in view of the difficulties in the way of its accomplishment grows quickly into habit. This habit shortens the mental vision; it stifles ingenuity; it discourages enterprise; it limits every power."

All this hue and cry among those who would call the world's peacemakers visionaries, take upon themselves a heavy burden of proof. They are dreamers, to be sure! The kind of dreamers that were Ceasar, Napoleon, Nelson, Washington, Grant and Lincoln—the dreamers who can make their dreams into realities.

Those nearest Mr. McKinley say that he also followed something greater than opportunity, and that through it he conquered every foe—even death. When reading the wonderful hymn of Bishop Newman, the hymn that the martyr President loved so well and repeated on his death-bed, what else could one conclude:

"So long Thy power hath blest me, sure it still will lead me on
"O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till the night is gone."

Ever since Job said: "My days are swifter than a weaver's shuffle," the analogy between life and a loom has been familiar. It should mean even more to this age whose intricate machinery is matched by a complexity of life, and a social consciousness never so keenly felt before. We know that the lives all around us are being woven with our own, and that the resulting social fabric will be no better than the average thread. Thus soliloquizes Frederick D. Greene, General Agent of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

My "Circle" declares that impossibilities are man's own creation, not God's, and for a man to voluntarily surround himself with impossibilities is an insult to his Creator. Let him, rather, stride forth upon the earth, over which he was given dominion; let him hold up his head; tighten his muscles; let the warm blood surge through his veins and conquer. It is the man who brings things to pass in spite of difficulties who honors his Maker, and is a leader among men. The angel who wrestled with Jacob declared, "As a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed."

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe, one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias as we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa, suppressed or absent monthly periods, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Feared Husband's Wrath.

New York, Aug. 23.—Leaving a note saying that she would rather face death than meet her husband's wrath when he learned that she had misappropriated $600, which was in her keeping as treasurer of the Sunday school of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Mrs. Andrew Gaetz left her home in West New York on Friday and has not been heard from since by her family. Most of the money in the woman's charge was collected by the Sunday school children for a new church which the trustees planned to build. Mrs. Goetz's husband is a shipping clerk, employed in New York. The couple have been married for 25 years.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

More Troops Sent.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 23.—Under telegraphic orders received here from Colonel Nottingham, commanding the militia, 15 additional milliamen forming the Seventy-first Virginia regiment were on Wednesday despatched to Onancock and Tasley on the eastern shore of Virginia to join the troops already sent there because of the race troubles.

Russia Builds Battleships.

London, Aug. 23.—A foreign government, supposed to be Russia, says the Chronicle, has awarded to a British firm of shipbuilders a contract for several battleships, cruisers and gunboats. A record insurance of nearly $35,000 has been effected on the building and launching risks, the policies covering two years.

Died on a Train.

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 23.—An unknown man, supposed to be a Salvation Army worker enroute to Chicago, died of apoplexy on a westbound Erie train. He was about 65 years old, and carried no papers giving a clew to his identity.

Postoffice Looted.

LaFayette, Ind., Aug. 23.—Burglars robbed the postoffice and general store of L. H. Nicely at Dayton, near here, of $300 in postage stamps and $200 in cash.

Bogy, a prominent merchant at Willow Point, Texas, says that he finds Ballard's Snow Liniment the best all-around liniment he ever used. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Don't Be Blue

And lose all interest when help is within reach. Herbine will make that liver perform its duties properly. J. B. Vaughn, Elba, Ala., writes: "Being a constant sufferer from constipation and a disordered liver, I have found Herbine to be the best medicine, for these troubles, on the market. I have used it constantly. I believe it to be the best medicine of its kind, and I wish all sufferers from these troubles to know the good Herbine has done me." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Warehouse and Store Burn.

Statham, Ga., Aug. 23.—Rats in the roof of the warehouse of the Statham Warehouse company are supposed to have started a fire which destroyed the warehouse and the hardware store of Ed Rylee, a brick structure, which adjoined it. The warehouse company carried insurance of $4,0 which covered their loss. The loss sustained by Mr. Rylee has not been ascertained.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CARE OF THE VIOLIN.

The Way to Keep an Instrument in Good Condition.

The fact that a violin will survive a thousand calamities if rightly repaired is no excuse for knocking it about or neglecting it.

There are a few little attentions which easily become habits and which go a long way toward keeping a violin in good condition. The first is to keep the instrument clean. The old notion that a coat of resin does a violin good is ridiculous. Besides spoiling the varnish, it is apt to get into the pores of the wood. Dust quickly forms a crust on a violin which is difficult to remove. Therefore after being played upon the instrument should always be wiped off. It takes only a few moments to brush the resin from under the bridge and finger board. For this purpose a soft linen or silk cloth should be kept in the violin case.

Never try to polish your violin with oil. Many valuable instruments have been hopelessly ruined by experiments of this kind.

The well known instrument maker J. A. Otto says that the inside of a violin should be "cleaned out every half year with a handful of barley made rather warm and poured in at the f-holes. Then, by properly shaking the instrument, the dust will adhere to the barley and come out through the f-holes."

The question of strings is an important one to all violinists. Cheap strings never pay. They either break quickly or they become false. It is much more economical to buy the best Italian strings and then to take good care of them. Strings that are left on the violin very long become hard and dry and have often to be discarded before they break. However, if a little care is taken of them they will keep a long time in good sonorous condition. Rub them off with a soft cloth dipped in olive or almond oil. Besides being a nourishment to the string the oil removes the hardened resin which collects under the bow and which produces a rasping, grating kind of sound. Then, also, the oil cleans away the traces of perspiration from where the fingers touch and thus prevents the strings from growing false. Of course the oil must be thoroughly cleaned off again before the bow is applied.

It is a good plan to have your spare strings wrapped in oil paper and kept in a tight tin box or glass jar, as they are just as sensitive to heat and cold and dampness as are those on the violin.—Anna B. Foley in Circle.

Equal to Occasions.

Lord Whitworth, who held various posts of honor in English diplomatic circles, was a kindly, gracious gentleman as well as a wit and a man of the world. He had indeed almost measured swords with Napoleon at the Tuileries when that despot railed at England for not having evacuated Egypt and Malta, accused her of having violated treaties and ended by flourishing a cane dangerously near the face of the English ambassador.

Lord Whitworth put his hand on the hilt of his sword.

"What would you have done if the emperor had struck you?" he was afterward asked.

"I would have felled him to the ground," was the quiet answer.

Perhaps the best story told of him is one showing how his quick wit disposed of a rival. When he was at the Russian court, Fox sent there as a sort of ambassador of his own a man named Adair, the son of a surgeon.

One day the empress, speaking in French, said to Lord Whitworth:

"Is he a very important man, this M. Adair?"

"Not so very, madame," replied Lord Whitworth, "although his father was a grand saigneur," a remark which readers of French will recognize as a very good pun, for the word used by Lord Whitford means "blood letter," while by its sound it also meant a great lord.

Witty Women.

Women have more wit than humor. They are more sensitive than men. Their minds are nimbler. Their thoughts flash instantly to an intuitive conclusion; hence wit is far more natural to them. They have hardly the intellectual patience to create or enjoy the less obvious and more deliberate moods of humor.—Munsey's Magazine.

A Failure.

"So you don't believe in the mind cure?"

"No."

"Did you ever try it?"

"Well, I once tried to convince my wife that she didn't really want a new gown."—Judge.

Looks That Way.

"I wonder if Mars really is inhabited."

"Don't know, but if Saturn is, I'll bet the politicians own it."

"Think so?"

"Certainly; can't you see the rings?"—Philadelphia Press.

A concealed spark is more to be feared than an open fire.—German Proverb.

YORKSHIRE PIES.

Here Is the Way They Were Made in the Olden Days.

The deliciousness of the Yorkshire pies of olden days may be judged by the following recipe from an old fashioned cookery book: "First make a good standing crust, let the wall and bottom be very thick; bone a turkey, a goose, a fowl, a partridge and a pigeon; season them all very well; take half an ounce of mace, half an ounce of nutmegs, a quarter of an ounce of cloves and half an ounce of black pepper, all beat fine together; two large spoonfuls of salt, and then mix them together. Open the fowls all down the back and bone them; first the pigeon, then the partridge, then the fowl, then the goose and then the turkey, which must be large; season them as well that and lay them in the crust so that it will look only like a whole turkey; then have a hare ready cased and wiped with a clean cloth; cut it to pieces, that is joint it; season it and lay it as close as you can on one side; on the other lay woodcock, moorgame and what sort of wild fowl you can get. Season them well and lay them close; put at least four pounds of butter into the pie, then lay on your lid, which must be a very thick one, and let it be well baked. It must have a very hot oven and will take at least four hours." It is not surprising to find that a footnote adds that the crust requires a bushel of flour.—Chambers' Journal.

A CLEVER REPORTER.

He Got the Interview Word For Word and Took No Notes.

Interviewer—I have come to get your views on the proposed change in the curriculum of the school.

Mr. Swelhead—Curriculum! What's that mean? I'm against it, whatever it is.

Mr. Swelhead (reading the report of the interview in the next morning's paper)—"Our distinguished townsman, Mr. M. T. Swelhead, was found at his charming home, surrounded by abundant indications of ripe scholarship and sturdy common sense. In reply to our representative's questions he said, 'I do not desire to force my opinions upon the public, but this I will say, that I have given to this question long and studious attention, incidentally examining upon the curriculas of institutions of learning, both at home and abroad, and, although I found in the existing course of study not a few matters for condemnation, still I cannot say that I should advise any radical change until I have further time to examine into the subject.'" By George, that fellow's got my exact language word for word. And he didn't take notes neither. Jiminy, but what a memory that fellow must have!—London Telegraph.

A London Lad's Prayer.

W. Pett Ridge, a London writer, made a London boy in one of his stories offer the following rather original prayer: "Lord, wilt thou 'ave the kindness to make me grow strong and tall and with plenty to say for meself, and wilt thou do this as soon as thou can find time, so's to save me expense and waste of money that might be used in other ways—say for a cricket bat? Believe me, Lord, thy obedient servant, A. Martin."

He rose. He was halfway into his blue flannel bed gown when an important idea occurred to him, and he knelt down again quickly.

"Should 'ave mentioned," he whispered, "Elfred Martin of 53 Cawstle street, jest over Surrey side of South'ark bridge."

Water Transportation Cheap.

Any class of water transportation is incomparably cheaper than land transportation, unless something better than the modern railroad is invented. For this reason the greater part of our domestic or inland tonnage has been and is carried by water and not by rail. For that reason the railways own the largest steamers on the lakes. The wheat trade was lost to the Mississippi, not by competition, but because the railroads did not bring it there. The Mississippi above Cairo is decadent, not for lack of ability to compete, but for lack of commerce, which is to say accessibility by means of its own tributaries.—Charles D. Stewart in Century.

Nothing Doing.

The musician was visibly annoyed.

"But, hang it all," he said, "I told your reporter three or four times over that the violin I used was a genuine Stradivarius, and here in his report this morning there's not a word—not a word!"

With a scornful laugh the editor replied:

"That is as it should be, sir. When Mr. Stradivarius gets his fiddles advertised in this paper under $2 a line, you come around and let me know."—Los Angeles Times.

The Value of Ridicule.

"A man," said Dr. Johnson, "should pass a part of his time with the laughers, by which means anything ridiculous or particular about him might be presented to his view and corrected."

ROOMS AND BOARD. - TABLE BOARD A SPECIALTY

Pleasant Informal Occasion.

A few friends "incidentally" made a call at the home of Miss Lenora Vidal Wednesday evening, which was a most agreeable surprise to the young lady. She was equal to the occasion, however, and entertained her "pop" callers in her usual clever manner.

The evening was spent in games and music, and incidentally Miss Vidal served delicious refreshments. All felt good for coming, and, inasmuch as they were treated so hospitably this time, may decide to make another call at no distant day.

Delightful Straw Ride.

A delightful straw ride was participated in Wednesday night by a number of Gainesville's young people, the party being chaperoned by Mrs. W. P. Coffey.

The party went to the Millhopper, where a delightful lunch was spread, and, after an hour or so spent pleasantly, they returned to the city, reaching here about midnight.

Those on the trip were delighted and are under obligations to Mrs. Coffey for her kindness in accompanying them.

One of the most attractive windows of the kind we have seen recently is the display in the window of the Gainesville Tinning and Plumbing Co., Hill building, East Liberty street. This display comprises everything necessary for plumbing, the bath and the toilet, and has attracted the attention of a great many who passed by. The Gainesville Tinning and Plumbing Company is among the best firms in this section of the State, and we are pleased to note, are enjoying a fine trade.

J. J. Morgan and son, Alonzo, were trading in the city yesterday. Mr. Morgan hails from Brooker. He reports that Mr. D. W. Pinholster, who recently lost his home and all outhouses by fire, is preparing to rebuild at once. In fact, work has already begun upon the barn, which must be ready in time to house his corn and other crops, and as soon as material arrives the work on his residence will begin. The loss of Mr. Pinholster was about $3,000, with only about $400 insurance.

Mrs. J. M. Vanlandingham and son, J. N., and Mrs. Elizabeth Pons, all of Monteocha, were among those who visited the city yesterday. Mr. Vanlandingham reports that the growers are now picking cotton, but the crop will be short by twenty-five to thirty per cent. The market opened at Monteocha at 7 cents in the seed, which was two cents better than last season.
